The biological man living in a Sorority House was a danger to the women & exposed his penis, a lawsuit against the University of Wyoming states:

The man was “sexually interested in women,” the lawsuit alleges, adding that he had a profile on Tinder “through which he seeks to meet women.”

“Mr. Smith has, while watching members enter the sorority house, had an erection visible through his leggings,” the suit says. “Other times, he has had a pillow in his lap.”

Hey Sororities, see what happens when lowering standards? You'll end up with masturbating tranwomen in your living area.

Women need to be protected from men with these kinds of fetishes- it seems he's taking advantage of the situation. Women deserve to feel safe and comfortable in women only spaces.

 Weird to live in a world where a "woman" has a penis. Pretty sure a dick signifies it being a dude no matter how you try to twist it.

Interesting. It seems that so often in society women being sexualized is seen as normal or even celebrated. Yet, the scary truth is that women are so often victims of male predators. We are eliminating their voices entirely and invalidating them.
